said, and in deference to musicians' a wide-open split, but this time he then abandoned all pretence.

There were two considerations which agitated the liberal justices

First, was the fact that the holders of municipal bonds and the municipalities themselves both favored this Act. What the holders et the bonds are up against is the dif ficulty of getting all of their scale tered numbers to agree. A small minority can hold out, demand to be bought off before it comes into the agreement.

This is going to be the chief outcome of the Court's decision-the hold-outs will demand their price. The voluntary provision in the Act had avoided this Second, is the fact that the wolding of the Bankruptcy Act plays directly into the hands of inflation ists The only other way a municiident: Mrs. Sarah Williams, vice-president: Mrs. Esther Bengston, down its debt is by printing cheap money. That is what happened in Germany.

If municipalities are not able voluntarily to reduce their debts, there will be increasing pressure for inflation. NOTE-Section 8. Article T. of the

New that the summer season is coming on, when you will be ppearing in the revealing bathing suits decreed by modern fashion, many of you will probably become conscious of your figure faults, ertainly, many people who take their shapes for granted during the vinter months, find room for improvement when they put on a new athing suit at the start of summer. In order to cut a good figure resided in the brief garments now designed for swimming, the body use the well-developed and the one who is too thin, too plump, flathested, or round-shouldered will hesitate to join in the swim, and will long for a pleasing figure.

If you are thin, then possibly you were born, with a tendency to lendarness, but you may be sure-that many errors on both the physical and mental plane have only served to exaggerate that natural endency. The thin person is generally of the nervous type, of the yee that is so setive mentally, that he burns up nervous energy at a rapid rate. The remedy lies in regulated periods of rest which will bring about a gain in weight and a relaxed feeling of repressed strength, and in corrective exercise to develop the muscular parts. However, before you can hope to get the good out of your exercise you must learn to avoid tension and it is unquestionably true that if you keep the idea in mind of remaining flexible and without tension while exercising that the attivity will prove restful, whereas if you seep every muscle tight, you will finish your exercise feding tired.

If you are overly plump then you must realize that the best way to overcome physical sluggishness is to be more active physically. Try eating less food and at the same time, take more exercise and you will easily restore your body to a symmetrical form.

One of the striking results gained by exercise taken for the purpose of physical development is that you will at the same time, natice a mental and psychological benefit. Your mind will become more alert, and you will finish you have an increased feeling of cheeffulness and competence. Your tr onfidence in yourself grows larger.

Exercise taken to build up attractive curves will also tend to acrease your vigor. Physical culture exercises seem to be of remark-hie assistance in building up energy and the whole body is apparantly recharged after systematic calisthenics. Whereas, many kinds from the control of th ently recharged after systematic calisthenics. Whereas, many kinds of work seem to be enervating, graduated exercises, taken with the definite object in view of building up the physical development you so ardently desire, will be productive of very good results in getting rid of that tired, pepless, feeling. Many patients have reported to me that the best way to throw off the fatigue resulting from a day of office work, is to exercise vigorously. Such a plan will restore vitality and will banish the previous tiredness. These results are gained because exercise has a stimulating, vitilizing effect due to the improvement in the blood circulation and to the increased oxygen intake.

Those who wish some definite exercise to use are invited to send for any or all of the following articles. With your request, enclose ten cents and one large, self-addressed envelope. Send your letter in earls of this newspaper. EXERCISE AND DIGESTION.
